Customer Reviews

My son had to do a biography report on presidents and after reading reviews, thought that this would be a good fit. Has all the biographical details but an easy read for children in language that isn't intimidating and explained well. Definitely helped him with writing up his report, so much so, he became a real fan of the president.

Great book for my third grade son. We used it for a book report. He liked the "real" pictures. Well done. And I'm a Republican! Children need to learn to respect the political process.

My 2nd grader had a project on Barack Obama. This book gave almost every detail that he needed, and he could follow the information very well. There were also great definitions for terms that a 7-year-old would never know.

Short but informative book about Barack Obama. My kids (ages 3 & 7) enjoy the pictures and quick facts in the Nation Geographic Kids books. We are studying the 44 presidents and this was a great little addition to our studies.
