Domo 2012 Wall Calendar

Synopsis

Hatched from an egg in front of a TV set, Domo-kun first rose to popularity in Japan, where he is the mascot for NHK, Japan's public broadcaster. In the years since, this television-loving, strangely endearing monster has become an Internet sensation and licensing phenomenon, winning the hearts of people the world over with his gentle soul and sloppy-silly adventures. Thanks to his millions of loyal fans, this international superstar is also a character brand that has successfully translated to fashion, toys, games, television, and, of course, calendars. Includes bonus stickers!

Customer Reviews

Last year's Domo calendar was a bit disappointing, with some recycled pictures and a date grid that left little room for writing in your family's events. This year's model is a terrific improvement. Not only are there new pictures and a plainer - more usable - date grid, but our copy came with a sheet of Domo stickers! The picture pages include three or four shots each, and they're cued to the month, season and holidays. Themes include Valentine's and St. Patrick's Day, Easter, the Fourth of July, Back-to-School, Halloween and each of the four seasons. There are many truly creative shots, such as "Clockwork Orange Domo," "Rainbow Double-Dutch Domo" and "Peeps Domo." US, UK, Ireland and Canada holidays are noted, and the calendar is printed on high-quality stock. [Ã©2012 hyperbolium dot com]
